President Elect Delays Naming Men Of Cabinet

Personal Acquaintances Are Being Given Most Consideration

THREE POSTS ARE HARDEST TO FILL

Announcement Of Cabinet Members May Be Made About February 1

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt will select his cabinet from men he knows personally, it was indicated today. He will rely on his own judgment and not on the recommendation of others.

He has not yet decided in his own mind who his cabinet advisers will be and he does not know how soon—or under what circumstances—he will make public their names. He said he does not know at this time whether he will make the names public one by one or all at once. He indicated no cabinet announcements will be made prior to February 1.

At that time Mr. Roosevelt will be in the south, either at Warm Springs, Ga., or cruising in Florida waters on Vincent Astor's yacht, the Nourmahal.

Mr. Roosevelt made it clear that published speculations on the make-up of his cabinet are merely guesses.

Important Posts.

Friends of the president-elect say the three posts about which he is most concerned are those of secretary of state, secretary of the treasury and the attorney generalship.

It is understood the attorney generalship is open to Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana if he will accept. Other prospective candidates for this post include Joseph O'Mahoney, national committeeman from Wyoming; Arthur Mullen, former governor of Nebraska, and Felix Frankfurther of Massachusetts.

For the position of secretary of state the names of Norman H. Davis, New York; Newton D. Baker, Ohio, and Owen D. Young of New York have been mentioned.

Those mentioned for the post of secretary of the treasury include Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, Bernard M. Baruch of New York and Swager Sherley of Kentucky.

Mr. Roosevelt has an appointment for today with Mayor James M. Curley of Boston. The president-elect will leave at 4 o'clock this afternoon for his country home in Hyde Park where he will spend the week-end. Sunday afternoon he anticipates a visit from William G. McAdoo, senator-elect from California. McAdoo will spend the night at Hyde Park.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

A local young lady tells Pa Newc about seeing a lost calf out on the Butler road the other day. The poor little fellow presented a pathetic figure to passing motorists. Pa's informant said she had a fleeting notion to stop her car and take the little calf home for a pet!

Switchboard formerly used at the police station to receive hourly calls from the officers on their beats was hauled away from headquarters yesterday. It was of no use with the new Gamewell system in operation.

One of Pa New's informers tells him that a local market had the following notice on a window yesterday "We Make No Prophet On This."

Gifts reach the Senior high school library at different times during the year—the latest is a complete file of the valued Century magazine from 1882 to 1930. Miss Jane Love was the donor.

We probably do not need to inform you that today is "Friday the Thirteenth."

STATE GRANGE TO FIGHT PRESENT EFFORT TO REPEAL SUNDAY LAWS SAYS BOAK

In a forthright statement made today, J. Audley Boak, of Slippery Rock Township State Master of the Pennsylvania Grange places the organization 70,000 strong against the proposed attempts to break down the Sabbath Observance laws on the statute books of Pennsylvania.

The Grange he says is squarely against the attempt to commercialize the Sabbath and will oppose actively any attempt to do such a thing. Carrying out his statement with direct action, Mr. Boak has named representative Grangers in the various counties of the state to head up the opposition to the bills already presented in the General Assembly and proposes to carry the fight into every county where the Grange is organized. W. Sharp Fullerton, Master of Pomona Grange has been named for Lawrence county.

Against Commercialization

The statement says that the Grange is against the commercialization of the Sabbath, but does not oppose the doing of those things which by common usage and force of circumstances have become necessary to modern life. The particular things named as things opposed by the Grange are Sunday commercialized sports, theatres and the like.

Mr. Boak's statement is the first public declaration in the State of the fight that will be waged in the General Assembly against the proposed repeal of the so-called Blue Laws. Other organizations such as the Lords Day Alliance, State Sabbath School Association, National Reform Association, W. C. T. U. and many others are already at work but the statement of Mr. Boak listing the Grangers on the side of Sunday observance is the first pub-

JUST 23 WORDS IN WILL OF LATE CALVIN COOLIDGE

(International News Service)

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Jan. 13.—Legal machinery was set in motion today to give Mrs. Calvin Coolidge complete control of the estate bequeathed her by her late distinguished husband in a will of 23 simple words.

Penned by his own hand in the White House, the will of the late president, filed for probate in Hampshire court late yesterday, stated:

"Not unmindful of my son John, I give all my estate both real and personal to my wife, Grace Coolidge, in fee simple."

The next step toward having Mrs. Coolidge appointed sole executrix of his estate, was the advertisement in the local newspaper, once a week for three weeks, of a petition to the probate court seeking such authority.

After the citation of the petition appears once each week for three weeks, a hearing will be held in the probate court before Judge Edward T. Fields, in whose law office Mr. Coolidge received his start in the legal profession. It is expected she will be named without opposition.

Hold-up Suspect Is Investigated

Fred Williamson And County Detective Look At Prisoner In Wheeling

NOT BANDIT IN LOCAL ROBBERY

Accompanied by Fred Williamson of New Wilmington, County Detective H. M. Lee went to Wheeling, W. Va., Thursday for the purpose of identifying if possible, a criminal held there, as being the man who held up Mr. Williamson and shot him some months ago. Mr. Williamson was unable to identify the man and the prisoner will be held in West Virginia and tried there.

The man in question has a sister living in New Castle and at the time of the Williamson holdup was visiting in New Castle. With another young man he stole an automobile and drove to Farrell where they got two girls and took them to Wheeling.

In Wheeling they abandoned the New Castle car and stole another car. After holding up a gas station they were pursued by a motorcycle cop but escaped when they jumped out of the stolen car in a narrow alley and let the car drift back against the motorcycle.

They then stole a truck and went to Texas where they were engaged in the trucking business for a time. Apprehended for a board bill they did not pay was the way the Wheeling authorities got in touch with the men. One of the men escaped and the other was brought back to Wheeling for trial.

If you don't know what a "lame duck" Congress is, it's the type of Congress they are holding now, where nobody is going to try to do anything till another Congress is called. Why this administration wants to stick in there till the last dog is hung and take this punishment is hard to understand.

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13. — The filibuster of senate Progressives led by Senators Long (D) of Louisiana and Thomas (D) of Oklahoma gained new impetus today.

This move, if successful, would doom the bill for the present session of congress.

Plans Approved For Plaingrove Highway

County commissioners this morning received a letter notifying them that Governor Pinchot had approved a plan for a proposed road in Plaingrove township, known as route 370. The commissioners are uncertain as to the location of the proposed road, but believe that it leads from the Plaingrove road from a point above the high school to Brent. Commissioners are chiefly concerned in releases of damages if the road is built, as the county does not propose to sanction the building of any new roads that will mean the payment of unwarranted damage claims.

Attic Gutted In East Side Home

Fire In Home Of J. H. Hendrix Causes Damage Of $1500 Last Evening

NEIGHBORS ACROSS STREET SEE BLAZE

Fire of undetermined origin gutted the attic of the home of J. H. Hendrix of 1515 East Washington street at 9:50 last evening, causing a loss of $1,500. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

The blaze had a fairly good start before it was discovered, neighbors residing across the street from the Hendrix home noticing the flames coming out the roof. They ran across and informed the Hendrix family of the fire and an alarm was turned in from Box 48, summoning No. 4 and B truck companies to the scene.

According to firemen, the fire started underneath the eaves of the house and worked its way behind the partitions, the attic having been finished off for living quarters. It was necessary to lay a large line of hose and there was considerable water damage in addition to the loss from fire.

Mr. Hendrix told Fire Chief H. Clare Stockman that there was no insurance on the contents of the home and only enough on the house to cover a mortgage.

Firemen worked for several hours before they had the blaze finally extinguished, although it was brought under control within a short time after arriving on the scene.

In one corner of the attic, a gas stove was located, which had been lit during the evening, and gas leaking around the connection is believed to have ignited, setting fire to a floor mop. Most of the damage to the home was in the opposite corner of the house, however, firemen stated.

Last night's fire was the third turned in from Box 48 in 24 hours, two of the blazes being of a serious nature.

State Relief Board Starts Market Plan For "Balanced Rations"

By JOSEPH A. LOFTUS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Jan. 13.—Pennsylvania today viewed the hitherto unseen fruits of its 1932 extraordinary legislative session.

The emergency relief board, created by that session, launched the state's most ambitious project in the name of relief—the community market plan.

Briefly, its primary aims are to provide scientifically "balanced rations" for the thousands of empty stomachs and to stretch the relief dollar to its "absolute limit."

Convinced that the present system of distributing food relief thru the medium of the food order is not ideal, the board undertook an intensive study of relief plans in other states and determined upon the community market system for Pennsylvania, based on these principles:

1. Purchase of foodstuffs in bulk.
2. Separate rations especially adapted for adult, adolescent, and child.
3. Combining in the ration foods which both in quantity and quality give all that is needed for child, adolescent, and adult.
4. Preparation of the ration in unit lots.
5. Demonstration of how to cook the ration, with explanation of why it gives the food element people need.
6. Maintenance of a nutrition center, under the supervision of public health nurses cooperating with physicians designated by the local county medical society.

Food Order System Retained.

The food order system will not be abolished entirely, simply because its elimination is impossible in many cases, the board explained. It will continue to be an important factor in relief, especially in rural areas.

The intention is to set up community markets, where the county board approves, in the metropolitan and populous centers. The board's announcement stressed the fact that

Credit Men Balk At Relief Plan

Local Group Wires Protest At State Commissary Move

MEETING HELD IN CITY LAST NIGHT

A telegram carrying the vigorous objection of the New Castle association of Wholesale Credit Men to Governor Gifford Pinchot's plan of replacing local county relief committees with commissary branches for feeding needy folk, was wired to the executive by Secretary Ralph A. Cooper this morning, as a result of the organization's two hour discussion of the commissary plan last night in The Castleton.

The credit organization, informed in detail last night of the governor's new plan, voted to throw its full influence against the new relief procedure as invoked within the past few months at Erie and other places.

It is reported that commissaries have been established in a number of counties to handle the relief problems arising, substituting for the local county relief committees organized by the governor several months ago.

President W. C. McKeown presided at last night's credit meeting. A dinner preceded the discussion.

Hoover Vetoes Bill Granting Island Freedom

President Says In Message To House And Senate, Philippines Not Ready

SUGGESTS PLAN FOR PLEBESCITE

Would Give Islanders Liberty, But Not For 15 Or 20 Years Yet

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—President Hoover today wrote an emphatic "no" on the Philippine Islands hopes for independence as framed by the dying session of the 73rd congress.

In a powerfully-worded message to the House and Senate, he vetoed their bill to give the Phillipines complete freedom in ten years on the three major premises that the islanders cannot economically withstand independence in the coming decade, that they would be in grave danger of oriental invasion and subjugation, and that it would be unfair to the world-at-large deliberately to project more chaos and instability upon a harassed civilization.

Sums Up Arguments

His most significant argument was summed up in the final sentence of his message. He said:

"This legislation puts both our people and the Philippine people not on the road to liberty and safety, which we desire, but on the path leading to new and enlarged dangers to liberty and freedom itself."

After pointing out that the islands could not prepare to sustain themselves in the abrupt period of time Congress stipulated, and discussing quite frankly the potential dangers of "responsibility without authority," the president turned to a prophetic discussion of consequences that might accrue from the "spirit of imperialism and exploitation" that is prevailing in the far East. He said:

"The impact of western ideas upon oriental systems of culture and government has created a profound ferment among this half (the far eastern) of the world. Our own future and the future of the Filipino people, both in maintenance of peace and the development of our economic life and trade, are deeply involved.

Suggests Plan

"Today the picture is chaotic. It is impossible to see what the next two decades may bring. It is a certainty that at the end of such a period we can see more clearly the forces which are formulating."

Mr. Hoover proposed the Filipinos be authorized to take a plebescite on independence in "15 or 20 years" rather than the two years contemplated in the vetoed measure. In that time he suggested the full consequences of liberation from American rule could be placed before the islanders and an intelligent vote could be obtained.

PITTSBURGH HONORING MEMORY OF FOSTER

Anniversary Of Death Observed

Native Son Who Wrote Notable Musical Compositions Is Given Tribute

MANY FEATURES TODAY'S PROGRAM

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 13.—All Pittsburgh today paid tribute to Stephen Collins Foster, a native son, whose great musical compositions continue to carry on his memories through the years.

Memorial services, beginning with a visit to his grave on the slopes of Allegheny cemetery here, are to be held in all sections of the city. Schools, theatres, clubs and radio stations will join in observing the 69th anniversary of his death.

Almost 175 melodies were written by Foster, some of the more known being "The Old Folks at Home," "Old Black Joe," "Way Down Upon the Swanee River," "Massa's in De Cold, Cold Ground" and "Old Dog Tray."

He was born in Pittsburgh and his home still stands as a memorial, open to public observation.

STATE GRANGE TO FIGHT EFFORT TO REPEAL BLUE LAWS

lic utterance of the head of a state wide organization. The statement follows:

The Statement

"The Pennsylvania State Grange is squarely against the Commercialization of the Sabbath, and will oppose actively, any attempts upon the part of the Legislature to break down existing laws which prohibit such commercialization.

The law against the commercialization of the Sabbath are based primarily upon the tenets of the Christian religion, and the Pennsylvania State Grange is composed of Christian farmers, 70,000 in number.

"The Sabbath is germaine to the question of Christian worship and religion is essential to the well being of any commonwealth. As Grangers, we believe that the age old command to respect the Sabbath Day is just as binding now as it was when it was written by Moses.

"Our opposition to the commercialization of the Sabbath should not be construed as an attempt to regulate the conduct of the people of Pennsylvania. Neither should it be understood that we oppose the doing of those things on the Sabbath which by common usage, and force of circumstances, have come to be considered works of necessity. Among these things could be listed the work of policing a city, its fire protection, the operation of railroad trains and trolleys, the use of automobiles, and the operation of such industries as must be operated seven days per week to avoid loss. These things are necessary to modern life. We do oppose the legalizing of theatres, professional sports, prize fights, dances and the like on the Sabbath Day because we believe it to be a violation of the laws of God.

"It is argued that the law of 1794 is now antiquated. The antiquity of the law is not an element in the necessity for its enforcement. The Ten Commandments are much older and there has been no attempt made yet to abrogate or repeal these commandments. The law against the commercial Sabbath in Pennsylvania is merely a setting down by statute one of the commandments handed down from Moses.

"For these reasons, the Pennsylvania State Grange is against any attempt to repeal the so-called Blue Laws. They are a part of our civilization, a part of the statutes which have governed Pennsylvania in its progress from a wilderness to a mighty industrial state.

"To repeal these laws would be a weakening of our moral fibre, a violation of the practices of the Christian religion, and a step towards destroying religion in Pennsylvania."

STATE RELIEF BOARD STARTS MARKET FOR BALANCED RATIONS

the new system is not a soup kitchen or bread line arrangement, nor a mere commissiary plan. The "balanced ration" supply is the outstanding feature which distinguishes it from the commissariat.

It has the approval and cooperation of the state medical society, members of which will render definite aid at the various local markets. A public health nurse and two volunteer assistants will be part of the market personnel. With the aid of medical and dietetic experts, the balanced ration program has been already outlined and the necessary equipment designated. It is expected the average market will handle 12,000 rations weekly.

The market will be under the direction of the local county relief board, and control of all activities will be under the supervision of a volunteer general manager.

Policemen Are Held For Plot To Get Ransom

Two New York Officers Implicated In Kidnaping Plot For $100,000

NEW JERSEY MAN GIVEN RELEASE

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Two policemen were arrested today as the "master minds" in a daring kidnaping that had as its motive a $100,000 ransom.

Three other men, one with a long criminal record, also are held as aides in the abduction of a wealthy man under the very eyes of government authorities in the Federal building, Brooklyn.

For two weeks the victim, Ernest Schoenig, 43, of Pleasantville, N. J., was held a prisoner in Manhattan, always under guard, forced to write three letters begging his wife to pay the ransom.

Ransom Not Paid

But it was not paid and finally, in disgust, the kidnap mob freed him.

The policemen are John Nevins, 28, and Arthur B. Greaf, 37.

The other prisoners are: Frank Miller, 35, said by police to have been arrested 20 times; Max Geller, 28, a seaman, and Leonard Gawelczyk, 22, all of New York City.

According to police, Schoenig was in the Federal building in Brooklyn on December 27 last in connection with a liquor case.

As he was leaving the building two men halted him, showed him police shields and said he was wanted in connection with another case.

Was Held Prisoner

He left with them in a car, allegedly driven by Miller, and went to a garage in Brooklyn. Later he was taken to a house in Manhattan, where he was held prisoner until January 10, guarded night and day. It was Nevins, the police alleged, who compelled him to write the ransom notes to his wife.

His guards, it is charged, were Geller and Gawelczyk. Geller is said to have admitted his part and to have named Nevins as the man who brought Schoenig into the house.

Gawelczyk told Sullivan that on January 10 the two policemen visited the house and told the guards to release Schoenig. Asked why, they replied, according to Gawelczyk:

"Well, we can't get any dough."

CHINESE PLAN FOR DEFENSE OF JEHOL PROVINCE

the latter's palace. He is scheduled to proceed to Chingwangtao, near Shanhaikwan, tomorrow.

Liu described his trip as designed solely to review the battlefront, but it was generally believed he would leave for Chingwangtao carrying former President Chiang Kai-Shek's personal instructions to consult with the Japanese in an effort to reach agreeable terms without delay.

Liu's chances of success were regarded as problematical. Japanese news agency dispatches from Chingwangtao quoted the Japanese commander there as stating that China must come "on bended knee" and apologize for the incidents leading to the Shanhaikwan fighting before settlement can be hoped for.

The Italian legation today denied Japanese reports that three Italian sailors had been killed by Chinese bullets on the Shi river front.

SHANGHAI, Jan. 13—The Shanghai Chamber of Commerce today demanded severance of economic relations with Japan.

The chamber went on record in protest against "the ferocity of tyrannical Japan, which is increasing in intensity in the northeastern provinces."

TOKYO, Jan. 13.—A declaration that the Japanese army will not aggravate the situation in Jehol province regardless of the Chinese army's attitude was made at a cabinet meeting today by Lieutenant-General Sadao Araki, minister of war.

"The army's policy," he said, "will be to remain in Manchukuo, as per the Japanese-Manchukuo photocol.

"While our troops are in the Shanhaikwan area by virtue of the Boxer agreement, we shall not aggravate Jehol whatever the Chinese army's attitude. We shall not extend our operations beyond the boundaries of Manchukuo."

SERGEANT'S OFFICE IS NOW PRIVATE

Office of the sergeant of police is now entirely separate from the court room of the city police station. This is made possible by the use of half a door with a counter arrangements on top of it. The gate or half door is to be so arranged that persons may be permitted in when seeking the chief by merely pressing a button, which will release the half door and permit the person with business to meet the chief and transact the same.

Noted Blacksmith Dies Of Stroke

Man Who Forged 14,000 Good Luck Horseshoe Pieces For Notables Dies At Martinsburg

(International News Service)

ALTOONA, Pa., Jan. 13.—America's most famous blacksmith died today.

He was Charles Gorsuch whose death followed a sudden stroke of paralysis at Roaring Spring hospital. Gorsuch was 74.

Fifty-four years ago, Gorsuch forged a miniature horseshoe—a good luck piece—and sent it to Thomas F. Ryan, noted capitalist. He received a letter of thanks in return.

Since then, Gorsuch forged 14,000 similar horseshoes and sent them to notables all over the world.

His home at Martinsburg is crammed with gifts and curios he received in return. Several books are filled with autographs, letters and mementos of the world's great and near great, past and present.

There are letters from practically every one of the former rulers of Europe, and South American countries. Other "thank you" notes bear the signature of Admiral Dewey, General Allenby, Commander Robert Peary, Sir Thomas Lipton, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, Mark Twain and many others.

Scores of visitors from all parts of the country have visited Gorsuch's home annually since he retired a few years ago because of advancing age.

A London dispatch tells of a courage serum that will make a kitten whip a dog. Somehow or other the American bootlegger would appear to have invaded the British market.

ROBINS AND WEATHER

REPORTS from the Temperate zone of intemperate winter habits of robins seen in January do not prove that spring is just around the corner. Spring is never as slow in turning the corner as prosperity has been but neither does it run as far ahead of schedule as the robin prophets would have one believe.

There is nothing mysterious or remarkable about these January reports of the first robin. In the first place not all these robins are robins. There is a certain type of human imagination which can make a robin out of any bird of comparable size, especially against the crimson background of sunrise or sunset.

But robins have been known to visit the land of snow and sub-zero weather in the dead of winter when they are supposed to be luxuriating in the South. There is nothing so very remarkable in that. Many robins winter within a few hours flight of their summer worming grounds, making week-end trips home easily possible when weather permits. And then there is the possibility of being carried North by storms.

People believe in such weather signs because they want to believe in them. The wish is father of the thought. When wintry winds blow away the coal pile one is prone to grasp at the slenderest hope of an unseasonably early spring. So prematurely early robins are seen in the early morning and other signs of an early spring are found.

CLOWNING IN THE UNITED STATES SENATE

The three-hour filibuster carried on in the United States Senate by "Kingfish" Huey Long in an endeavor to kill the branch features of Senator Glass's financial bill is one of those stupid and indefinite things that make thoughtful people despair of popular government. There is no need to discuss the merits of the proposed legislation; it is enough to say that it was presented by one of the able members of the Senate, an authority on finance and a former Secretary of the Treasury. The bill should be treated on its merits, and either passed or defeated, according to the convictions of a majority of the members of the body. But the business of filibustering, even when indulged in by the jester of the Senate, is not funny in these days, when desperate people are looking to Washington for some constructive action that will help them in their fight for a return to normal conditions.

We are told that the galleries enjoyed the show put on by the Senator from Louisiana, that they laughed and shouted while he "swayed from side to side, bounced on his feet, read from books, threw out sarcastic flings and quips, with much arm-waving, head-shaking and hand lifting." In other words, the business of the Nation was halted while a demagogue put on an "act" to evoke the cheers of the thoughtless. It was only after much pleading by intelligent Senators of both parties that the "Kingfish" paused long enough to permit consideration of a deficiency bill which, among other things, provided for a fund for feeding the destitute in the District of Columbia. But what about the destitute throughout the country? Are they going to be helped while vaudeville performances are given before "the greatest deliberative body in the world" to satisfy the conceit of freak members eager to get into the spotlight?

There may possibly be times when some grave national issue justifies a filibuster; but for the most part the blocking of public business to satisfy the whims or the prejudices of an individual is intolerable. Huey Long, with his crude antics, may be amusing for a time opines the Philadelphia Inquirer, but it will not be many months before he is looked upon as a pest—if, indeed, that time has not already arrived.

BOOK-RETURNING DAY

A feminine reader wrote to Howard Vincent O'Brien's "All Things Considered" column in the Chicago Daily News enlisting his aid in having a day appointed upon which all booklovers will return to one another all borrowed books. There are wide-open spaces in her book shelves which she would like to see re-filled with the volumes- normally at home there.

Books should be lent. There are few possessions pleasanter to share with friends than well-liked books. But they should also be returned. If lenders could ever remember to whom the different precious volumes had been passed along, they could solve the problem neatly by borrowing the books back again.

Up to now, however, the idea of a special day set aside for the restoration of books to owners looks like the best arrangement. It ought to spread well beyond Chicago's boundaries, and perhaps become a national festival with special ceremonies and merry-making to mark its importance.

UNRELIABLE MEMORY

Present conditions are conducive to lurid forecasts dealing with the "breakdown" of the existing economic order, the increasingly "precarious" condition of the majority of the people and the menace of special visitations like "technological unemployment". The country is full of pessimists predicting everything from revolution to wholesale starvation. Many of these never expect to see good times again.

Against such pictures of a world rapidly going to the dogs it is useful to take a look back into the past. Are the "unprecedented" phenomena really so unheard of as people assert? Have the industrial nations, over a long stretch of years, been going forward or backward?

Men and women, who have gone through other depressions, describe this one as all the others rolled into one. It may be but the human memory is notoriously unreliable and especially prone to forget the dark pages in life's history.

There are reasons why this crash should be more farreaching and complete. In the first place the nation's population increased by many millions between this and the preceding depression. And in the second place the country had never before attained such a high peak of prosperity.

PICK MY POCKET. PICK MY HEART

There he sat, that tall, strange man who had been in prison. Right over there in that chair he sat. He'd been out of prison only a few days, but you wouldn't have known it, to look at him.

Except for one thing. At first he had the trick of keeping perfectly still, looking straight ahead as he talked. As a man might, after years in prison. . . . And when he talked, he used words that are common in prison. Short, hard words. Tough words. Most expressive. He'd call a man with a gun a "torpedo". He'd refer to his expenses as his "nut". Once he spoke of someone being "on the whiz", and I asked him what that meant.

He told me.

It means you're a pickpocket. He was no pickpocket, this man, but in prison you learn everything about everything, so he knew just how pockets are picked. He showed me how. He explained how pickpockets work in "mobs". . . .

You're in a street car, hanging to a strap. There's a man straight in front of you. He's reading a magazine. There's another man alongside of you. The car lurches. You lurch. Everybody lurches. The man pushes you in the face with his magazine and begs your pardon. Your attention is distracted. The other man takes your wallet out of your left rear pocket—thats' where you usually keep it—and slips it to a third man, who gets off the car. If your money is in your vest and the vest is tight, that's no great difficulty. The man in front of you unbuttons your vest first. . . .

The mob doesn't take silver. It wants paper money only. That's easier.

* * *

The man explained it all to me, just as a sleight-of-hand performer would show a simple card trick. Or as a mechanic would explain the working of an automobile's differential. In a matter of fact way, giving me to understand, without saying so, that a pickpocket is as proud of his skill as any other man is of any ability that he may possess. . . . It was interesting.

I found it interesting. I think anybody would. It takes cool daring, self-confidence and some contempt, too, for the victim, to go into a man's pocket while he is alive and reasonably alert and take his money away from him. . . . Wouldn't say I admire that ability, but I can see its difficulties.

And surely one CAN admire that kind of pickpocket more than one can admire those other pickpockets—greater thieves, more villainous by far—who rob man of his pride, his self-confidence, his self-respect, his happiness, his peace of mind in such a multitude of cantankerous, conniving and debasing ways. I can, and so can you or any other man.

I'd give my hand far more willingly to the pickpockets of the streets and crowds than to any of these others. And so, I'm thinking, would you. . . .

That first one picks only my pocket, steals only my purse—which I've heard on good authority is but trash. That other picks my heart and soul.

FOSTER-CHILDREN

Sometimes foster-parents do not treat their foster-children fairly when it comes to the division of their property after death.

It is not enough that a couple should feel that their duty has been done to a child whom they have reared, because they have supplied food and clothing and shelter.

Especially a foster-child who has stood by and taken care of the old folks—been a companion to them in their old age—should be remembered.

The foster-child who has been dutiful and grateful—unselfishly kind—should have as much as financial circumstances permit regardless of the law provision in the matter.

Law does not stand in the way of willing certain things and amounts to a foster-child, but leaving this world and letting the law take its course in order to keep friends with next of kin who have never done anything, is not a fair disposal of property.

Every possible thing is sure to be done to prevent such a child from inheritance by those bound by blood ties even though they know how kind the foster-child has been.

Steps should be taken in life to give the belongings foster-parents like the child to have.

PURPOSE

How can they think that life is vain?
Who knows the secrets of the fates?
Or what lies just beyond the gates
Which open to the morning? Loss and gain

To present sight are never plain.
Perhaps an urgent need awaits
For him who now in dreadful straits
Suffers both poverty and pain.

He may beyond disaster's rim
Discover ere his life is through
A purpose God has kept for him
Which only he could rightly do.
Men live for something Time alone
In its peculiar way makes known.

THE WEEK'S MOST REMARKABLE STORY

Arthur C. Whitney, overseas 27 months during the World War was gassed three times and mentally twisted. His life before the last attack was a blank to him. After the war he landed a job as Federal prohibition agent in New York City and met and married a Michigan girl. For two years they have lived in St. Paul. A few nights ago Whitney was struck a blow on the head which caused him to fall under the wheels of a beer-stealing truck, fracturing his skull. When he regained consciousness in the hospital it was to see Mrs. Luella Whitney who had married him in North Dakota in 1912, and the mother of his two sons, standing by his bed. He remembered her, but now knows nothing of the girl he married in Michigan nor of the almost completed divorce proceedings between himself and the Dakota wife, and nothing of how he was hurt. At that, Whitney's loss of memory will be more inconvenient than convenient.

After a time Mose returned to the apartment and reported he had carried out his orders.

"I done told him all you done told me to tell him, boss," stated Mose.

"And what did he say to you?" inquired the tardy one.

"He done asked me who I was," replied the bellhop.

"And what did you tell him?" asked the manager.

"Why, I done said to him, 'I'se de doctah, boss."

Japanese Puzzle Inspires Several Possible Solutions

Distress Of Civilians At Home, Opposition From Russia, Unification Of China And Effect Of World Disapproval Are Considered

The opening of the new year with further military operations by Japan aimed at Chinese territory, especially in the neighborhood of the Great Wall, is placed among the major events of the world. There is a conviction that the military caste of the Oriental Empire has serious designs on its neighbor, and that it intends to pursue its purpose in spite of limited financial resources and the possibility of internal trouble due to the distress of civilians at home. Opposition is expected from Russia, though its lack of preparation for warfare is recognized. Despite inactivity among the great powers, it is suggested that world opinion may finally check Japan.

Emphasizing the cost of "conquering Manchuria and keeping it conquered,' and the consequent condition of the Japanese Treasury, the DES MOINES TRIBUNE suggests: "Every hoary and every new-fangled trick that anybody can think of will be used, and to the limit, to make it impossible for the Parliament to do other than accept the budget and to make it impossible for the taxpayers (Japan has taxpayers, too) to do other than submit. The saddest part is perhaps this, that the hokum and hullabaloo will probably work—so well that the victimized people will not have the sense of submitting at all; they will think it is they who patriotically insist." The PROVIDENCE JOURNAL makes the comment: "Her expenses are increasing, her industries languish, and it is a question how long she will be able to support her ambitious policy of Westward Ho. No intelligent student of affairs can afford to leave the possibilities of her advance toward the sunset unexamined."

From another viewpoint, the ROCHESTER TIMES-UNION suggests that "if China ever becomes a united nation, obeying loyally a central government of dignity and power, it will be the blackest day in the history of Japan, for united China will be a mighty and unbeatable adversary," and the SALT LAKE DESERET NEWS thinks that "the great war of the future, if it is to occur, might be found with China and Russia opposed to Japan." The CHARLESTON (S. C.) EVENING POST, considering similar possibilities, declares: "Russia and Japan are more than likely to have a scrap before the Manchurian episode is ended. Japan is bankrupting itself to prepare for it. Russia is already bankrupt. Nevertheless, in both countries money will somehow be found for fighting, even if it cannot be found for food. There are many people in other nations who would, for a variety of reasons, welcome a fight between grasping Japan and anarchic Russia. It is not a reassuring picture of the sanity of human thought processes."

"The only flash of resistance," in the opinion of the BOSTON TRANSCRIPT, "is the situation created between Japan and Soviet Russia by the refusal of the Japanese themselves to sign the proposed non-aggression treaty between the Soviets and their country. This leaves the Soviets apparently under the national necessity of enforcing the rights which they have in Manchuria under the arrangement for equality of control of the railway from Russian territory through Harbin to the sea. Manifestly, however, the Japanese are not worried about the possibility of a Soviet check on their Manchurian operations, or they would not refuse to sign this treaty.'

Possible ambitions of Japan receive much attention. The SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE offers the comment: "There is real danger that the attack on Shanhaikwan, like similar incidents in the past, may go very far. * * * That city is important because it extends the sphere of Japanese action south of the Wall into 'China proper'. This city, in fact, is the 'port' of the Wall; the one place where the railway goes through it. It dominates the approach to Tientsin and by rail to Peiping. It indicates a policy to control the Mongolian province of Jehol, which guards both the approaches to Peiping. It confirms the policy of regarding the military movements of Marshal Chang Hsueh-liang south of the Wall as Japan's business. And it is in immediate contact with the international troops left in China under the Boxer treaties to guard the approaches to Peiping. If the policy indicated by this first step is carried to its logical conclusion, it means the Japanese conquest of all North China, including the legation city which was Peking and is now Peiping."

"The burdens to be imposed by another year of conflict on a wider and probably a more remote front may prove in the long run more decisive than any military 'triumphs' achieved in Manchuria or Jehol or China," says the NEW ORLEANS TIMES-PICAYUNE, while the AKRON BEACON JOURNAL, recognizing the need for men, food and munitions along with billions of treasure, concludes that "when these resources fail, there may be a Japan that will keep its covenants with other nations." The CHICAGO DAILY NEWS comments: "It seems incredible that impoverished Japan, while expending $200,000,000 a year on a dubious venture in Manchuria, should risk trouble with Russia, as well as with China. But most of Japan's policies since September, 1931, have seemed equally preposterous, and sober sense is not to be expected from its militarists. The far eastern crisis seems destined to be intensified in the near future."

Examining the Japanese attitude, the APPLETON POST-CRESCENT offers the judgment: "We need to realize that their nation is a unit behind her leaders in their flat defiance of world opinion. There are very substantial reasons for it. Japan must expand or wither. She needs new land for her surplus population. She needs new raw materials of all kinds—foodstuffs, minerals, oil, tim-

Paul Reider To Be Married

Former New Castle Football Star And Pitt Captain To Wed Ann Farrell

REIDER WON OUT OVER McDONALD

PAUL REIDER.

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 13.—"Dan Cupid" penetrated the gridiron ranks of Pittsburgh's college again today and this time pierced the heart of Paul Reider, of New Castle, captain of the Pittsburgh Panther eleven.

Reider's engagement to Miss Ann Farrell, of this city, was announced yesterday afternoon by the girl's mother. No date has been set for the wedding.

Campus gossip attributes Reider's engagement to Pitt's victory over Duquesne University on the gridiron last fall. Prior to the battle Reider and Jimmy McDonald, Duquesne halfback, waged a private battle for the girl's affection.

Unable to decide between the two stars, Miss Farrell turned to the football classic for a decision, the gossips say. Pitt won the game and Reider his bride-to-be.

MARION, Ind., Jan. 13.—Nomination of Edward Hunter, International News Service Correspondent, for the 1932 Pulitzer prize was revealed in an address before the Marion Exchange Club here by W. W. Durbin, managing editor of the Marion Chronicle.

"Hunter's story from Fushun confirming the massacre of 2,700 Chinese civilians by Japanese troops was one of the finest examples of newspaper achievements in history and I believe it will go down in the annals of the newspaper industry as one of the most important stories of this century," Durbing told the Exchange Club.

District Attorney Saves County $10,000

Common Sense Methods Of Mercer County Official Show Results

SHARON, Jan. 13.—Approximately $10,000 in the administration of the district attorney's office has been saved the county during 1932, an analysis disclosed Thursday.

Estimated savings of $5,000 by the elimination of two terms of criminal court, approximately $4,000 in keeping the dockets clear of liquor cases and in strict surveillance of constables' work, and several hundred dollars more in the elimination of costs through disposal of petty offenses rather than taking them to court are the chief items of economy.

The savings are the result of the policy of District Attorney Joseph W. Nelson who assumed the office a year ago.

Body Of Murdered Man Is Discovered

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Jan. 13.—Authorities of Mahoning and Trumbull counties are seeking clues to the brutal murder of a man whose body, beaten, stabbed and strangled, was found along the Erie Railroad right-of-way east of Hubbard.

The Youngstown police are inclined to believe that the slaying is a gang murder, and there is suspicion that it may be linked with the murder last month of "Peaceful Sam" Lapolina, who was fatally shot near his padlocked joint. That slaying was attributed to a wholesale liquor price war.

The dead man was tentatively identified as Frank Shatine, also known as "Cheesy." The police were not satisfied with this identification.

Members of the faculty including Mr. Boyd, Mr. Young and Mr. Conway gave interesting talks on school spirit and good sportsmanship. Several school songs were played by the band, under the supervision of Robert Duff, and sang by those present. Numbers of each room were put in a hat and the first room number drawn was to get free admission to the Union-Zelienople game Friday evening and after the meeting each senior in room 203 was presented with a free ticket for the game. This system is going to be carried out until each room gets an opportunity to see a game free. This will help to increase school spirit.

SCHOOL HIGH SPOTS

Now that examinations are over the students of Union High School are ready to begin a new semester's work. We hope that more students have learned to study in order to be exempted from examinations in May.

Mr. Rudesill, one of the Union township school directors, with Mr. Conway, and salesmanship teacher, Mr. Smythe, were the audience for the salesmanship class on Monday. They saw pens, knives, soap, cream, watches and what-nots demonstrated by the class.

The annual staff cannot continue much further without more bids for printing. As soon as the cost of printing is determined, the members can begin working out other phases. The Utopian staff wish to have the annual near completion by the end of January.

The basketball tickets are now on sale. The tickets, which are 25c each, gives admittance to nine games during the season. These tickets are just for the students.

All pupils with an average of 90 or above in their subjects were exempted from the semester examinations this week.

Robert Duff, director of the band and orchestra, is planning a musical program to be given in the auditorium, January 24. The program has not been fully decided upon but will contain solos of various instruments, quartets, vocal numbers, and special pieces by the orchestra and band.

The art exhibit will be held January 17, for the Parents and Teachers Association. The students of the art class are working on the year book. Sewing and shop also exhibited.

Merrill Young, art teacher at Union, spent several days in Harrisburg during Christmas vacation. He visited many places of interest such as the Cathedral of Education and the Blue Print Room.

LOSE AT HARLANSBURG

The Union Reserves journeyed to Harlansburg Friday and lost a close and exciting game with a score of 20-19. The playing of Edward Allen and John Eve was outstanding.

SCHOOL NOTES

Miss Alice Jones, a member of the senior class, has been confined to her home on account of illness.

Miss Robinson, teacher of the sophomore class, has been confined to her home on account of illness.

Assistant County Superintendent C. B. Book visited the Union high school Friday, Jan. 6.

Lucille Hunter has returned to school after a week's absence.

The semester tests were given from January 11 to January 13.

Home room will be observed next Tuesday morning.

Gospel Tabernacle Continues Services

Missionary Convention Will Continue Nightly In Church Balance Of Week

The missionary convention in the Gospel Tabernacle of the Christian and Missionary Alliance continues nightly this week and Thursday evening the service was most inspiring.

After the congregation sang "Go" and "Just Like His Great Love", Arnold Young offered the prayer and Dr. George Powell brought a missionary message.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jenkins had a vocal duet and the address of the evening was given by Rev. S. M. McGarvey, district superintendent.

This evening Dr. Powell will continue his talks on Africa and will show pictures to illustrate the work there.

School Puppet Show Entertains Parents

Pupils and a visiting group of parents witnessed George Washington junior high school's novel puppet show in yesterday afternoon's chapel exercises of the students. The day's program was under the direction of Miss Helena Burkart, head of the school's art department.

The marionette performance, managed entirely by student operators, marked one of the most entertaining assemblies ever to be held.

MAGPIES PECK EYES OF LAMB VICTIMS

(International News Service)

VICTORIA, B. C.—Irate sheep owners have declared vigorous war on magpies to secure protection for their flocks.

The voracious birds peck out the eyes of lambs when they are only a few days old and then wait for the blinded animals to die to finish their gruesome work. Bounties are paid on the birds and 5,000 were killed in British Columbia last year according to the report of A. Bryan Williams, game commissioner.

He recommended the total extinction of magpies and crows.

BOSTON GOAT HAS BIG BLACK HORSE AS CONSTANT PAL

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Mass.—Much has been written about the strange affection different types of animals have for one another, but the Commonwealth Armory boasts of a big black horse and a white goat that are "buddies."

So strong is the affection, the horse follows where his small playmate leads, and the horse's hooves have kicked out at any one who would harm "Bill" the white goat.

Bill was acquired as the official mascot of the 101st Field Artillery when he was three weeks old, and given a big room stall all to himself. Soon Bill wandered over to the cavalry and it was love at first sight between Bill and a coal black horse of the 110th Cavalry.

Bill moved into the stable of Steve, the horse, and now Steve and Bill share their hay and oats.

Boy Is Injured In Auto Accident

John F. Shaffer of R. D. No. 2 reported Thursday that he was enroute east on West Washington street at the end of the West Side street car line, and was passing the street car, which was standing still, to the right side, when Bobby Pilshaw, aged 6, ran from in front of the street car, out in front of the Shaffer machine. Mr. Shaffer attempted to avoid hitting the boy but was unable to do so and hit and knocked him to the street. Mr. Shaffer picked up the boy and removed him to the office of a physician. He sustained a scratch on the forehead and a bruised left leg but was in every other way apparently all right.

SUCCESS IN LIFE JUST FOOLING FOLKS

(International News Service)

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 13.—Success in life is largely a matter of fooling the people, Dr. Elbert D. Thomas, United States senator-elect from Utah, recently told his class in political science at the University of Utah.

"The first people I fooled were my parents," Dr. Thomas said. "Then when I grew up I fooled my wife when I married her. Now I have played a joke on 117,000 Utah voters. However, only about 2,000 of these knew whom they were voting for. There were 8200 voters I couldn't fool, but that's all right because they were being fooled by someone else"

Dr. Thomas defeated United States Senator Reed Smoot veteran Republican tariff leader, in the recent election.

Turn those clouds

Inside Out!

YOU can gain a fuller, richer enjoyment of life by keeping in tip-top health. For health and happiness go hand in hand.

A frequent cause of poor health is constipation. It clouds your waking hours, and dulls even the sunniest disposition. Yet it can be overcome by eating a delicious cereal.

Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regular habits. ALL-BRAN also provides twice the blood-building iron of an equal amount by weight of beef liver. The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is similar to that in leafy vegetables.

Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily will overcome most types of constipation. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not corrected this way, see your doctor.

Think how much better it is to enjoy this food in place of taking patent medicines—so often harmful and habit-forming. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

"When you're healthy, you're happy"

"How you feel — and how well you look — depends largely upon the food you eat. Be sure your diet is balanced — with sufficient 'bulk' to promote regularity."

Committee Is Rushing Work On Beer Bill

Drive To Invoke Democratic Plank For Ratification By State Conventions, Opposed

BLAINE AND HIS COHORTS BUSY

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—A drive to invoke the Democratic plank for ratification of prohibition repeal by state conventions today divided senate interest with the Blaine judiciary subcommittee's plan for drafting a new bill legalizing 3.2 percent beer.

The subcommittee expected to complete its rewriting of the Collier bill, as passed by the house to place the legalization of beer above a constitutional attack in the federal courts. This was to be accomplished by eliminating all penalties for manufacturing, selling or transporting malt beverages with 3.2 or less percentage of alcohol.

Just as the Blaine group were rewriting the house beer bill, so it appeared house sentiment might force a revision of the same subcommittee's repeal resolution. Led by Speaker Garner and Democratic floor leader Rainey, there was widespread demand to submit prohibition repeal to state conventions, instead of to state legislatures as proposed by Blaine's subcommittee.

The first step to this end in the senate was taken by Senator Bratton (D) of New Mexico, He sponsored an amendment, proposing ratification by state conventions.

BLIND SOLDIER NOW SUCCESSFUL HUNTER

(International News Service)

BELLEVILLE, Ont.—Back in 1914 at a French hospital an army doctor told the soldier in front of him he was doomed to blindness and probably would be confined to a wheelchair for life.

Today the soldier—Archie Meeks, of Bonecho, is known as one of the community's most active hunters He rarely fails to bag at least one deer a season and although totally blind has developed such a marvelous sense of hearing he is able to shoot quite accurately at any moving object.

A small dog aids him in his hunting.

END OF SUMMER TO SEE 5-CENT BEER

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—The vision of beer at 5 cents a twelve ounce bottle, is seen by Clarence E. Wunder, president of a local brewery engineering corporation.

But, Wunder said, the frothy bargain will not make its appearance until the end of next summer. Beer will be inexpensive, he went on, because modern mechanics and chemistry make it possible to produce the beverage at three-fourths of the pre-Volstead cost.

Miss Marie L'Hommedieu

Girls not only are adopting definite schedules for saving money for their old age, "but they are sticking to them unless an actual catastrophe happens to the income." declares Miss Marie L'Hommedieu of New York City, executive of the Young Women's Christian association retirement fund. "It takes serious times like the present to force many young women to think strongly in terms of future security rather than of present indulgence," Miss L'Hommedieu states.

Women And Children Dispatched From American Mission At Changli

(International News Service)

PEIPING, Jan. 13.—Mothers and children evacuated the American Methodist Mission at Changli today when fighting there between Chinese and Japanese forces appeared a grave possibility.

Control of Changli by the Japanese would give them still another strategic position for their campaign to combine Jehol province with the territory controlled by the Manchuckuo government.

The children and their mothers were sent to Peiping. The mission at Changli is the only one between Tientsin and Shanhaikwan where Americans are situated, other important missions in the district being controlled by Chinese.

ERIE, Jan. 13—Lists of the names of citizens who recently petitioned city council for a 25 per cent cut in wages of city employes were posted last night in police headquarters and in fire stations.

"It's to let the policemen know who aren't their friends," said Patrolman Oscar Adams, treasurer of the Fraternal Order of Police.

CANADIAN-MEXICAN AIR LINE PLANNED

(International News Service)

GREAT FALLS, Mont.—A Canada-to-Mexico air line, which would be one of the longest and most direct north and south air routes in existence is a distinct possibility in the near future.

O. S. Warden, Montana highway commissioner and transportation expert, recently indicated that air service between Great Falls and Lethbridge and Calgary, in Canada, the only uncompleted link in the international air line, was being discussed.

The route would go through Great Falls, Billings, Cheyenne, Denver and El Paso, connecting with eastland-west lines at each of these points.

But after the government takes enough to balance the budget, how are the rest of us to budget the balance?

Declares Tariff Cannot Be Cut

Fletcher Asserts Democrats Cannot Make Material Cuts

DECLARES 1930 BILL FAIREST IN WORLD

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 13.— Henry Prather Fletcher, former ambassador to Italy and former chairman of the United States tariff commission, today predicted that the incoming Congress and administration will not be able to make any material cuts in the present tariff.

Addressing the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association, he asserted that the "much maligned" tariff of 1930 is sthe fairest on the statute books of any nation.

"By setting up an impartial tariff commission it offers the means whereby anyone who believes the rates are too high or too low can have them adjusted by showing that the rates fixed in the law do not equalize the costs of production in the United States and the principal competing country. No other nation acts so impartially and generaously in adjusting its tariff rates."

Cannot Reduce

In support of his prediction that the new Congress will not be able to reduce substantially "or in any important particular" the present tariff rates, Fletcher said:

"Foreigners living in great manufacturing countries like England, Canada, Japan, by underselling our own manufacturers under present rates are causing and will cause still greater unemployment, and instead of reducing tariff rates we will have to follow the example of France and increase them if we wish to safeguard our own markets for our own producers."

The Greencastle man asserted that no reciprocal or bargain arrangements can be completed with other nations unless Congress gives free and autocratic powers over tariff rates to the president, "which it never has done and never will do."

Must Cut Expenses

He said only one way out of the business slump existed: "By cutting our expenses to the bone and reducing taxation and living within our income."

Fletcher added that nothing like that will be done by Congress or the Legislature, or by lesser lawmaking bodies, except under pressure of public sentiment.

"And that is where you editors and publishers come in."

TRAPS FISH WITH FINS TIED DOWN

(International News Service)

SAN DIEGO, Cal.—Another fish story was revealed here when members of the crew of the tuna clipper Conte Verde explained the catching of a 325 pound broadtail swordfish with half-hitches over each fin.

Laurie Massa, the Conte Verde's master declared one of his men dropped a line with a weight attached. Finding the water was too shallow the fisherman started to haul in the line when half way up it tightened.

There was a jerk as the rope raced through the fisherman's hand. The giant swordfish was finally landed after an hour's battle.

Capt. Massa in explaining the catch said the fish had the weight clamped tight in his mouth and as as result of its rolling and lunging it had thrown one half-hitch in the line over its left fin and a second half-hitch over its right fin.

Find Evidence Of Mound Builders In Section Of South

Fain W. King, Paducah, Ky., Takes Up Study Of Ancient Mound Builders

Believes Strange Race Inhabited North America About 3,000 Years Ago

(On high bluffs overlooking the Mississippi river near what is now Wickliffe, Ky., a thriving city flourished 3,000 years ago while Barbarian tribes still roamed over the greater part of Europe. Discovery of the site of the ancient city, evidence of a civilization that existed in this country ages before Christopher Columbus discovered America, was made by Fain W. King, Puducah, Ky. In the following article, the first of a series of two articles, he tells of his hobby, his plans and the circumstances which led to one of the greatest scientific and historical "finds" of recent times.)

By FAIN W. KING
Amateur Archeologist
(Written Exclusively For And Copyright By International News Service, 1933.)

WICKLIFFE, Ky., Jan. 13.—Since the beginning of mankind prople have always been interested in delving into the unknown, or exploring to learn and gain knowledge of the past.

Since early infancy, beginning about the age of ten, I have been interested in the unknown. The beautiful stone artifacts plowed up in the fields of West Kentucky, West Tennessee, Southern Illinois and Southeastern Missouri have brought to light the work of a race which inhabited this land prior to our settlement.

Mound Builders

The nature of my father's business prompted much travel over this district. Often on these trips, my interest in the mound builders was aroused by many wonderful and beautiful pottery and stone specimens which I encountered in many prehistoric villages and on mound sites then in cultivation.

These surface finds arcused my interest and imagination in the almost unknown race that once lived here. I became interested in these prehistoric people, their lives, and their existence. While I followed my father into the lumber business, my interest in archaeology has never waned.

Located here at Wickliffe, on a natural fortification, is a total of mine mounds, which are revealing things not found any where else. I have known of these mounds about twenty years. They were never known to the archaeological world. Before developing the Wickliffe mounds I investigated many reports on village sites and mounds and nowhere did I find the Wickliffe mounds listed.

Not Disturbed

Fortunately, for the scientific world and those interested in archaeology, this land had been cleared of timber for a manufacturing plant which operated on these grounds for a few years. The beautiful contour and outline of the mounds had never been disturbed or destroyed by the plow.

Upon my purchasing this 25 acres, development work began on virgin land.

It has always been my dream and desire to develop for posterity and mankind a complete story of the mound builders.

From present indications my dream is about to be fulfilled. These mounds at Wickliffe have proven it was a great mecca or religious center, and the finds and discoveries indicate that we will have saved for posterity and have the most complete story obtainable anywhere of the mound builders.

Ceremonial Altars

These mounds have far exceeded our wildest dreams. They are located on a bluff overlooking the Mississippi river at a point where the Ohio river joins the Mississippi. Here we have found in three mounds which already have been uncovered, and permanent buildings erected over them, work of these ancients, which are complete and not duplicated anywhere.

In the temple of ceremonial is to be seen three ceremonial altars each approximately three by four feet in size in a parallel row alongside of each other.

The best thought seems to indicate that these people worshipped the fire, the sun, and the creator. There have been a number of temple mounds excavated in this territory but this is the first example of finding more than one altar in the temple mound associated alongside the other. In this mound we have three altars which are hard burned, showing many hundred of years of constant and probably perpetual fire had been maintained on them.

Charles Linton, who on Wednesday night claimed that George Ritchie had held him up and robbed him of a small amount of money in the Grove street district, failed to appear against Ritchie at two specified times yesterday. The result was that the mayor discharged Ritchie.

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

"My Father worketh hitherto, and I work."—John 5:17.

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Jan. 15 is Mark 1:21-45, the Golden Text being John 5:17, "My Father worketh hitherto, and I work.")

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

Our lesson begins "And they go into Capernaum; and straightway on the sabbath day he entered into the synagogue and taught." Back of this simple statement is a note of pathos we are apt to miss unless we are reminded of what immediately preceded as recorded only by Luke in 4:16-31. He came to Capernaum because his own native townsmen of Nazareth had ruthlessly expelled him from the synagogue of his childhood and driven him from the only town he knew as home. Thus Capernaum becomes his adopted home and its synagogue draws him, regardless of the experience on the preceding sabbath in the synagogue he knew and loved best of all in the earth.

Authority in the Realm of Truth

But he nursed no grudge against the church of his day for the shortcomings of some of its members. "He straightway entered and taught." And how he taught there is significant: "And they were astonished at his teaching: for he taught them as having authority and not as the scribes." He needed not to consult the opinions of others. He spoke as one who was expressing new, vital truths that were a part of himself and that issued like living waters fresh from his own soul. His was the authority of personality and sincerity and finality. He not only spoke the truth; he seemed to be the truth.

Authority in the Realm of Demons

His teaching was interrupted by the weird cries of a demon-possessed man in the synagogue, the demon testifying to his divine personality as "the Holy One of God." To this evil spirit Jesus spoke in sharpest tones of authority as he "rebuked it" saying, if we translate literally. "Be muzzled and come out of him," with the result that "the unclean spirit convulsing the man and crying with a loud voice, come out of him! The further result was the amazed comment of the congregation: "What is this? a new teaching! with authority he commandeth even the unclean spirits and they obey him." His was authority over demons as in the temptation in the wilderness.

Authority in the Realm of Disease

From the synagogue the Master went into Simon's home, where "Simon's wife's mother lay sick of a fever; and straightway they tell him of her: and he came and took her by the hand, and raised her up; and the fever left her, and she ministered unto them." Luke, the physician, says she "was holden of a great fever . . . and he stood over her, and rebuked the fever; and it left her." Here is authority in the realm of disease.

Then follows an amazing picture of the Good Physician walking authoritatively through the wards of an immense "field hospital": "At even when the sun did set they brought unto him all that were sick, and them that were possessed with devils. And all the city was gathered together at the door, and he healed many that were sick with divers diseases, and cast out many devils." Authority in the realm of disease!

The Source of Authority

Jesus walking among the sick at sunset is the ideal picture of the "end of a perfect day." How that day and every day began, and how he got this authority he exercised in every realm is told here: "And in the morning, a great while before day, he rose up and went out, and departed into a desert place, and there prayed."

Would you have something of his authority? The secret is that it is won in the realm of devotion in communion with God in prayer.

District School Directors Will Be Invited Here

Invitations Will Be Issued For Meeting During Teachers' Gathering

In addition to teachers of the mid-western district of the P. S. E. A., comprising seven counties in the western part of the state who will convene in New Castle on February 17 and 18, a meeting of all school directors of this area may also be held here.

Members of the New Castle School Board at their meeting Wednesday evening adopted a motion to invite them to meet here during the convention of the teachers, and if a favorable response is received, will arrange a program of discussion on topics which are pertinent at this time.

It was brought out in the discussion of the subject that several thousand school teachers from the seven counties in the area will be present at the meeting.

The counties in the district are Beaver, Lawrence, Butler, Mercer, Armstrong, Clarion, and Jefferson counties.

The meeting is planned for a mutual discussion of the problems confronting the different classes of districts in the area.

SAVE COOKY CRUMBS

Do not throw away the crumbs of your cookies, chocolate, sugar cocoanut and nuts which remain in the pan. Save them and roll coarsely, add to plain cookie dough. You will need less flour. Add the crumbs first to the dough and then add the flour until you have the proper stiffness. They will be delicious and different.

Man Who Asks County For Coal, Had Coal In Cellar

County commissioners are investigating the case of a south side man whom it is alleged made false statements in an effort to secure relief from the county. On Tuesday the man came to the commissioners office and represented that he had no coal and that his family was freezing. He claimed that they were keeping warm by gathering up wood.

An order for a load of coal was given him, but the dealer, being busy, was unable to deliver it at once. The next morning the man again appeared and stated that he had received no coal and needed it at once. The dealer was called and directed to take the coal. Yesterday when a driver arrived at the house with a load of coal, there was nobody at home. After some inquiries he drove back to the coal yard with the coal, his suspicions having been aroused.

This morning an investigator from the county commissioners office visited the home. The man was away but his wife said that they were without coal. The investigator asked to see where the coal was kept. The woman said it was usually placed in the cellar. The investigator wanted to see in the cellar but the woman did not want to let him. Finally when he insisted, he was permitted to go to the cellar. There it was found at least a ton and a half of coal. The investigator was satisfied from its appearance that it had been in the cellar for some time.

Continuing his investigation he found that two members of the family were working, and while they were not making big wages, they were making enough to get along. Commissioners have the matter of a prosecution under consideration.

There is a severe penalty attached to making false representations in order to secure county aid. One prosecution has already been brought and on account of its being the first, leniency was shown. But the commissioners do not propose to deal leniently in the future. On account of false representations it is sometimes difficult to accurately judge conditions. Any person who makes a false representation only makes it harder for worthy persons to secure aid. The commissioners have an investigator constantly at work checking up, but on account of the large number of requests, it is sometimes difficult to weed out the unworthy from the worthy. Help of citizens is asked in the matter. Where a citizen has reason to believe that the county is being imposed upon it is the duty of the citizen to make it known to the commissioners. The case can then be investigated. Officials say there is a certain class of persons who have given them more trouble than any other, and a close check is being made.

"WHEN I work hard, I usually smoke more; and when I smoke more, I usually work harder—and that's why I want a cigarette that's milder."

We use in Chesterfield Cigarettes mild, ripe Domestic and Turkish tobaccos which have been aged and re-aged.

These good tobaccos in Chesterfield are used in the right proportions—that's a very important matter.

These good tobaccos in Chesterfield are blended and cross-blended—welded together; that, too, helps to make a milder cigarette with better taste.

DOES RHEUMATIC AGONY DRIVE YOU CRAZY?

You cannot hope to get lasting relief from cruel, crippling rheumatic aches and pains if you are a slave to laxative drugs.

Medical authorities make no secret of the fact that often sluggish bowels contribute the poisons and acid conditions which result in painful, swollen, inflamed limbs and joints. You must stop these poisons at the source.

The Cream of Nujol treatment does this at a cost of only a few cents a day. Doctors specially recommend this new form of Nujol treatment for those suffering from rheumatic conditions. Cream of Nujol lubricates laxative-dried bowels, gives them new elasticity and activity, so that poisonous wastes are thrown off daily by natural peristaltic action. The new harmless Cream of Nujol treatment will make you regular as clockwork and will not interfere with your work or your play. Moreover, it is delicious and easy to take. Get Cream of Nujol tonight at any drug counter.

Anyway, we've discovered that Easy isn't a one-way street.

Bus and railroad transportation companies are facing a formidable competitor in the low-priced airplane; an "air flivver" costing only $400 has just been placed on the market in England.

Correct this sentence: "I wouldn't mind paying taxes" said the man, "if none of the money was wasted."

How to Guard against the FLU

Every News reader is urged to heed these precautions

The flu epidemic has reached this community. The health authorities are doing their part, but every individual must be on guard.

Keep the family medicine chest supplied with the sensible aids to health; any sickness weakens the system and lowers your resistance to germs.

Every household should have at least one hot water bag, in good condition, or an electric pad; and a fever thermometer. Sleep in airy rooms, with ample covering. Avoid an overheated house during the day; dress warmly when you go out. Beware of over-crowded cars, poorly ventilated public meeting places, stuffy telephone booths. Flu is contagious! Breathe through the nose. Keep the system alkaline, the bowels in good order; Phillips' Milk of Magnesia will help you do both. If you have any symptom of a cold, take Bayer Aspirin according to directions. Don't lose even five minutes! Genuine Bayer Aspirin can't harm you, but a common cold is dangerous at a time like this.

Eat plain foods, get enough rest, and don't over-do. Take these extra precautions to keep in sound physical condition, so your system will have normal resistance against germs.

At any sign of actual flu, call a doctor at once. Do not try to treat yourself for influenza!

DENY REPORT REYNOLDS BABY MAY NOT LIVE

Three And Half Pound Infant Is Being Kept In "Hot Bed" Incubator

GRANDFATHER MAKES VISIT TO HOSPITAL

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 13.—A report that Libby Holman Reynolds' premature three and a half pound infant son had only a "fighting chance" to live today was denied by Dr. Charles A. Fife, pediatrician attending the posthumous heir of Smith Reynolds.

"I should say that his chances are much better than that," the specialist said.

"It is true that he has not gained weight but that is natural in the case of premature babies."

Grandfather Sees Baby.

Meanwhile, Alfred J. Holman, Cincinnati attorney and grandfather of the babe planned to leave for New York where he will confer with attorneys making preparations for a legal battle to obtain a share of the Reynolds tobacco millions for Libby and the baby.

The infant lay in its "hot bed" type of incubator in a room adjoining his mother's. The potential heir to millions was not expected until next month and he will be kept in the "hot bed" for several weeks.

Libby has not yet seen her babe although her father and younger brother saw the infant when they came to visit the former Broadway singer yesterday afternoon.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

While this county of ours is fairly familiar territory from Ellwood City to New Bedford and from Enon Valley to Volant, there are spots here and there that are new and one of these has always been the upper corner of Slippery Rock township just inside the line from Scott.

For some reason I never had any particular reason to get over through this territory until Thursday afternoon, and it turned out to be an interesting ramble. No traffic jams out that way, but a lot of scenery even though it is winter.

Dropped off for a while at Audley Boak's farm and found that he had a plant out there much larger than any preconceived idea had imagined. For an hour we made the rounds of the farm making the acquaintance of a flock of cattle, and he has some dandies, with particular reference upon the young stock that is just beginning to get around under its own power.

Jersey cows, Chester White pigs, some horses a trifle smaller than a bull elephant and a flock of sheep. All under one roof, and the whole resembling a cattle barn at a county fair. Well behaved cattle mind you, not a moo out of any one of them all the time we were there, and even the pigs went around minding their own business, their business being to root out some lunch.

The day seems to have gone when a rural citizen can be kidded about the cows he has to milk and all that sort of thing. The machine age has taken over that job, and it looked to me as though a fellow could milk the cows in a full dress suit and never spoil his boiled shirt.

Even the drinking water for cows is mechanized. Each bossy, or maybe every two bossies, have their own private drinking fountain and the only thing missing in the whole picture was a tooth brush for each cow. Imagine getting pink tooth brush.

That sounds like milk from contented cows, and if the cows aren't contented with that layout, the fellow who takes care of them probably is. Probably when the Technocrats get through with us, a farmer will be able to stay right in his living room and at the touch of a button, drive the cows into the milking apparatus, cool it, strain it, separate it and churn it into butter.

Among these stories of men and women who met President Coolidge at close range during his term of office, Mr. and Mrs. Boak have a place. In 1920 when he was governor of Massachusetts and vice president-elect, the National Grange was held in Boston, Mass. Mr. Coolidge posed for a group picture on the steps of the State House. In 1928 as president, he had his picture taken on the White House lawn with the Grange delgates.

Force of habit often causes you trouble. A number of motorists who were in the Epworth church last night found this out too late. Before the street was widened, there was an outlet from the church parking lot on to East Washington street. It hasn't been replaced yet, and several cars were damaged last night when the owners drove out over where the outlet should be.

Picture Sermon Sunday Evening

Triumphs Of Missionary Work Will Be Shown In Pictures In First Methodist Church

Announcement has been made by the Rev. Dr. Norris A. White of a special service to be held at the First Methodist church on Sunday evening.

One of the most thrilling chapters from modern missionary triumph will be presented in an illustrated lecture-sermon entitled, "Borneo, Upward Bound." The lecture will center largely around the work of James Hoover, a personal friend of Dr. White, who went as a missionary, 29 years ago, into the very center of the "head-hunting" "wild men of Borneo" country.

He saw on one occasion nearly 100 human heads on poles around a chieftain's home, and had a company of 150 head-hunters take possession of his own humble missionary home for three days and nights. At that same location there stands today the beautiful little city of Sibu where "Jim" Hoover still lives and labors on.

It is a most gripping story and will be illustrated by 38 balopticon pictures. There will be beautifully illustrated music also.

Cows to the number of over 3,560 are kept in dairy sheds within the city of Liverpool. Although they live such artificial lives, 80 per cent of the milk they supply is stated to be equal, if not superior, to grade A standard.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Two men were believed killed and two others were critically injured early today in a mysterious explosion which blew a gasoline filling station on the edge of the exclusive Central Park residential section to bits and rocked a wide area on the upper West Side.

An hour after the explosion, one body was found in the greasing pit, buried under tons of wreckage. It was tentatively identified as that of Gilman Osgood, night watchman. Cause of the explosion remained a mystery.

Newspapers Given Unstinted Praise

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 13.—Lauding the press of Pennsylvania as "defenders of the people," William N. Hardy, manager of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' association, today summed up its 1932 activities in a report at the opening session of the organization's annual convention.

A record of unsurpassed aid to the needy has been achieved by the newspapers, Hardy said in his review.

Wonderful Aid.

"The newspapers have saved banks, fed the hungry, raised welfare funds by the millions, sustained community efforts driven unfaithful public servants out of office and have been more alert than ever to protect the people against exploitation."

The convention will conclude tomorrow night with a banquet at which Prof. Irving Fisher noted economist of Yale university, will speak.

Speakers scheduled for today included Howard W. Stodghill of the Louisville Courier-Journal, Dean Hoffman, editor of Patriot and The Evening News; Prof. Bristow Adams, Cornell university; George W. Bertsch, Baltimore Sun, and Henry Prather Fletcher, diplomat and statesman, who was to be speaker at the noon luncheon.

Arthur "Bugs" Baer, famed humorist, will be heard at the banquet tomorrow night.

WIFE CLAIMS KISS LOUD AS GUN AND LOSES COURT SUIT

(International News Service)

EVANSTON, Ill. Jan. 13.—No husband can kiss a pretty lodger with such a resounding smack that it would penetrate two closed doors and travel down a hall to the ears of his wife, according to a ruling by Magistrate Porter.

The wife, Mrs. James Wadsworth, brought disorderly conduct charges against Mrs. Amy Wilson, 27, the lodger, charging Mrs. Wilson was "vamping" her husband.

"I missed James," said Mrs. Wadsworth. "Mrs. Wilson's room is two doors down the hallway from the living room, where I was sitting. The living room and hall doors were both shut. But that kiss reverberated like a rifle shot."

"No errant husband would be so stupid as to make that much noise," the magistrate declared. "I think a jealous imagination has been playing you tricks. Case dismissed."

BLUE DYE NEWEST AID FOR POISONS

(International News Service)

BERKELEY, Cal., Jan. 13.—Further research in the use of methylene blue as treatment for cyanide poisoning cases has indicated that the dye should be of medical value in treating poisoning from carbon monoxide.

Mrs. M. M. Brooks, research associate in biology at the University of California, announced that the effect of carbon monoxide gas on animals could be lessened by giving an injection of methylene blue dye before subjecting them to the gas.

It was also found, she said, that the chances of recovery in those asphyxiated by carbon monoxide gas could be improved by a later injection, if made in time. One man was recently revived after he was given up for dead.

The treatment has been successful in cases of cyanide poisoning.

Senior's Mid-Year Class To Graduate In Cathedral

Principal Frank L. Orth announced late Thursday that commencement exercises for the January, 1933, class will occur on Friday evening, January 27, and that the Cathedral auditorium will be used. The graduation exercises that night will open at 7:30 o'clock.

Baccalaureate services for the seniors, scheduled for the Sunday preceding commencement, will be held in the senior high school auditorium. Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, instead of President Robert F. Galbreath of Westminster college, will preach. Dr. P. C. Pearson will assist. Dr. Galbreath could not accept.

For the next two weeks, the school calendar indicates, the seniors will be rushed at a speedy pace as the social functions associated with commencement occur.

On January 17 class day will be observed in the senior high auditorium, followed by the class baccalaureate on the 22nd. The senior A dinner-dance will be held at The Castleton on January 25 with music being furnished by a popular local orchestra. Commencement itself is scheduled for the 27th.

Final examinations will occupy the time of the class members commencing next Wednesday and continuing until the 26th.

STUDENTS TACKLE SEMESTER EXAMS IN COMING WEEK

Teachers' Test Sheets Ready As Student Body Concentrates On Studies

Exams! Exams! Exams! What would school be without exams? A little bit of heaven. Now's when good memories come in handy. It's one thing to get each day's lesson well in hand and it's another to retain a whole semester's knowledge. It's the time to buckle down and work.

From the first of last week until exams start on Wednesday, January 18, the routine will have been double assignments every day, the regular and a review. Of course, everybody studies reviews and nobody crams the night before a test. This is the time for the faculty to vent their wrath upon the students for all neglected lessons, and they have never been known to fail in doing it. We'll have to admit that exam time is not one continuous sorrow and woe. The intermissions—and, if you are lucky, perhaps an entire day off—give a person a chance to relax.

The attitude taken toward exams is usually determined by the attitude toward studies in general. Some students view them with fear, others with confidence. Whatever your attitude toward exams, like everything else, they must have their day so make the best of them.

Examination period will run from the 18th to the 26th.

QUIET MINERVA— AND, GRAD, DON'T YOU RECALL HER?

The divinity who guards the fates of the 2,100 students of Ne-Ca-Hi is Minerva, goddess of wisdom. She rules from a high standard in the front hall and though she has lost two arms and her spear she still is as beautiful and revered as ever. She is especially loath to have the seniors leave, because they seem to be more scholastically inclined than most classes.

Look at the last honor roll and you will see. "Min" has a responsibility in taking care of so many charges because she gets the blame if anything goes wrong. Some members of the senior class would like to know just what ceremony to go through to beg her favor because sometimes she turns a deaf ear to their pleas. Anyone who would supply this information to them would receive the thanks of the whole class.

LATIN TOURNEY DUE

The Senatus Romanus of the senior high school will hold the junior high Latin tournament on Saturday, January 14. The tournament is held every semester and is open to junior high students who are now studying ninth grade Latin.

In the preceding years three medals were awarded as prizes, but this year only one medal will be given. The pupils ranking first will receive a medal, the honor "Maxima cum Laude", and a place in the Senatus Romanus. The pupils ranking second and third will also become members of the Senate. Frequently students are given honorable mention, but they are not permitted to enter the Senatus Romanus.

The tournament will be conducted by the Senate members under the supervision of Miss Mary VanDivort. The members aid in grading the papers, get ready keys to the correction of papers and in other ways make themselves useful. Sometimes members remain until late in the afternoon to determine who is the winner.

There is friendly rivalry between members from Benjamin Franklin junior high school and those from George Washington junior high school. The winners of the tournament are notified usually on the same day that the tournament is held. The medals are presented later.

SHORTHAND CONTEST

The Gregg standard shorthand tests are being given this week by the commercial teachers of the senior high school. Many will compete for the 100-word tests and the more efficient and speedier pupils will compete for the difficult 120-word standard test. Certificates will be awarded to those passing the 120-word test.

HEAR FRENCH MESSAGE

Residence in Paris for nine years made Mrs. Georgette Wimer a delightful and capable speaker for the French circle a few days ago.

Mrs. Wimer spoke in French. However, she used the English words—sweet pickles, rocking chair, wash board. Mrs. Wimer amusingly related that in the French language there are no suitable translations for such English words.

The speaker lived in Paris for nine years. She was in France during the World war. Mrs. Wimer has lived in the United States for the last several years.

Probably the craziest law is one in Kansas, governing the railroads of that state. It reads: "When two trains approach each other at a crossing they shall both come to a full stop and neither shall proceed until the other is gone."

America is so loaded down with old laws that everyone is a lawbreaker. For instance, it is against he law in Pennsylvania to sing while taking a bath or to destroy a beer keg. Tickling a girl with a feather duster is forbidden in Maine while in Georgia it is unlawful to slap a friend on the back.

Pile Sufferers
Can You Answer These Questions?

Do you know why external remedies do not give quick and permanent relief?

Why cutting does not remove the cause?

Do you know the cause of Piles is internal?

That there is congestion of blood in the lower bowel—the veins flabby, the parts almost dead?

Do you know that there is a harmless internal remedy for itching, bleeding or protruding piles discovered by Dr. Leonhardt and known as HEM-ROID sold by all druggists that's guaranteed?

HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the cause. It stimulates the circulation in the lower bowel—drives out the thick impure blood, heals and restores the affected parts.

HEM-ROID tablets have an almost unbelievable record of success right in this city. So why waste time on external remedies or worry about an operation when Eckerd's Cut Rate and New Castle Drug Co. invites every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID with guarantee of money-back if it does not end their Piles no matter how stubborn the case?

Earl J. Watt Post Sponsors "Buy American"

Will Give Movement For Betterment Of American Condition A Big Boost

Earl J. Watt Post No. 638 American Legion at a regular meeting held Monday evening January 9, unanimously adopted the "Buy American" idea, which is rapidly spreading throughout the entire nation.

A committee was selected to organize and carry on this campaign throughout this community, which comprises Enon Valley, Mt. Jackson, Edenburg and Hillsville.

During the meeting, several talks on the "Buy American" campaign was heard and it was urged that all who wanted to help make this campaign 100 percent effective to be careful in making their purchases and not be influenced by some clerk remarking this is imported," when a similiar article made in the U. S. A. which is just as good and probably better can be purchased even though it may cost a few cents more.

The post urges that all stop and think of the genuine satisfaction they will have in giving some American workmen work to replace the article purchased.

The slogan of the campaign is "Be An American by Buying American."

Dr. J. N. Rule On School Program

Will Address County School Directors At Annual Convention Next Month

Word was received by County Superintendent of Schools John C. Syling this morning stating that Dr. J. N. Rule, state superintendent of public instruction, will be here to address the county school directors at their annual meeting on Friday, Feb. 17.

The directors will be able to get a clearer insight into many problems which confront the fourth-class districts at this meeting when they hear them explained by Dr. Rule, head of the state school system.

An invitation has also been extended by Mr. Syling to John H. Light, secretary of the Pennsylvania State Grange, to address county directors, and he may also be on the program.

No place has yet been secured in which to hold the meeting, as court will be in session that week and it will be impossible to use the courthouse, Mr. Syling has been informed. An effort will be made to secure an auditorium in the downtown section of the city if possible.

Approve Sum For Improvements On Harbor At Erie

Erie May Become One Of Chief Ports In Vast Inland Waterway System

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—After hearing that Erie, Pa., may become one of the chief ports in the vast system of inland waterways, the house rivers and harbors committee today tentatively approved expenditure of $377,000 to improve the city's harbor.

Rep. Shreve (R) of Pennsylvania told the committee that Erie occupies a strategic position.

When the vast Mississippi river system is completed the natural developments will be to build a 65 mile canal from Erie to the Allegheny river, Pa., which would make possible transportation to and from New Orleans, Minneapolis, Kansas City and other cities, he said. The Erie port, he added, would then be utilized in connection with the St. Lawrence canal for foreign transportation to and from inland ports.

The $377,000 would provide for an entrance channel 26 feet deep in hard material, and dredging of the inner harbor.

The proposal will be included in the next rivers and harbors bill.

WOMEN ROUT SEX DISCRIMINATION

Women have been waging a struggle for equality with men in the civil service for a number of years. Mrs. Helena Hill Weed of Connecticut, first exposed the discrimination against her sex; Mary Anderson, chief of the women's bureau of the department of labor, added further facts and figures concerning it; and later, Miss Jessie Dell of Georgia, only woman member of the civil service commission, fought it from the inside. Last month President Hoover issued an order revoking the right of appointing officers in the civil service to specify sex when asking for eligibles to fill vacancies. Merit alone now is the qualification of appointment.

Constables Sale Attacked In Suit

Case Of Joseph And Mary Pogozlec Against Constable Ricer On Trial

Alleged irregularities over the conduct of a sale based on a landlord's warrant in the basis of a suit brought by Joseph and Mary Pogozlec of Wayne township against Constable Clark Ricer of Ellwood City, which is now on trial before Judge James A Chambers. The plaintiffs are claiming $2,230 damages.

It is claimed that the landlord's warrant upon which the levy was made was not signed by Sarah Loftus, the owner of the property, or her agent, Paul Albino.

It is further claimed that Ricer who was accompanied by Constable George Burrows, did not give the plaintiffs an inventory of the goods and made a search of the plaintiff's premises without warrant.

It is further alleged that three calves were offered in bulk and sold for $11 and that they were worth $90, and that there was no warrant in law for offering them in bulk and that the price obtained was grossly inadequate.

Further charge is made that a cow found on the premises and sold was not the property of plaintiffs but belonged to Jacob Sonsky. Constable Ricer, on the other hand, claims that the levy was properly made and that the sale was conducted, according to law. Of the amount claimed by plaintiffs $230 is for loss on their property and $2,000 for punative damages.

A hoard of silver money, dated between 1400 and 1605, was found in a garden by Allen Wilson when his spading fork struck an urn containing 1,176 coins.

Junior High Will Have Program At School Next Week

A one act play, orchestral numbers and selections by the boys' and girls' glee clubs are on the calendar for Friday night, January 20 at the Benjamin Franklin junior high school auditorium.

The entertainment will start at 8 o'clock. The school hopes in this way to enlarge the school lunch fund, a fund from which noon lunches for students who are unable to afford themselves are provided.

Supervision Of Stock Exchange Is Not Far Cry

Prospects For Congressional Supervision Are Much Brighter Today

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Prospects for congressional supervision of the New York Stock Exchange brightened today.

Inspired by ruins of the giant financial monarchy reared and destroyed by Ivar Kreuger, Swedish match czar, senate banking committee members renewed their fight for legislation to protect American investors. Two days of looking thru the crumbled Kreuger kingdom convinced them proper regulations would have saved the fortunes of hundreds of investors.

Stock market phases of the crumbling of the tremendous Insull Utilities setup will come under committee scrutiny before any concrete legislative program is brought before congress. Senator Norbeck (R) of South Dakota, chairman, announced that committee investigators were working on preparation of the Insull case now, and that it would be taken up as soon as possible. Meanwhile, open sessions of the banking committee were suspended.

WAMPUM

REVIVAL MEETINGS.

The revival meetings at the Methodist church are growing in interest and attendance. The old Erie Conference Preacher's Quartet has the Gospel. At each service it has charge of the music, singing a number of special songs and leading the congregation. These men both sing and preach the Gospel. The 2:00 o'clock period of Bible study and intercessory prayer has been of special interest, and attracting an increasing attendance. A four o'clock service was held in the Newport Methodist church, Tuesday which was attended by the school children and enjoyed immensely by all present. Some humorous selections as well as sacred songs were sung and Rev. H. B. Davis gave a very interesting talk, in which he recited several original poems.

The quartet was entertained at a noon dinner in the home of Ross Hennon, Thursday where its table performance was shown to equal its platform ability.

At three o'clock, Thursday, the four gentlemen visited the school, sang several selections and made some appropriate addresses. The work of the quartet will conclude with the Friday evening services.

New Currency Plan Advanced In Washington

Would Provide For Issuance Of $3,000,000,000 In Bonds To Pay Expenses

SEEK TO AVOID ANY NEW TAXES

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13—A new currency expansion plan which provides for issuance of $3,000,000,000 of bonds to pay the running expenses of the government and avoid new taxes, was launched in the house today.

The plan was evolved by a subcommittee of 30 members of the independent 'open forum" group which claims a membership of 25 percent of the house.

Schemes Outlined

The plan, to be placed before the house in a bill today or tomorrow, is expected to be the rallying cry of increasing numbers of members of congress who have banded together to force currency expansion, or inflation either in the present "lame duck" session of the next congress.

The new scheme provides:

Issuance of $1,000,000,000 of one per cent bonds in 30 days, to be taken by federal reserve banks which, in turn, will deliver $1,000,000,000 or currency to the treasury.

The money shall be used to pay the running expenses of the government.

A second $1,000,000,000 shall be issued 30 days after the first issue.

If within 150 days after enactment of the law commodity prices have not risen to 80 per cent of the average from 1921 to 1929 a third $1,000,000,000 of bonds shall be issued to be converted into money.

The bonds shall be for ten years with the sinking fund available to retire them.

Plan Approved

Federal reserve banks are required to maintain 20 per cent in gold against the new money to be printed as against the present 40 per cent requirement.

The plan was approved by the "open forum" committee directed to study inflation after consideration of the soldiers' bonus and other plans.

The bonus payment was eliminated from the scheme.

The group plans to demand a vote in congress this session.

Although members maintained close secrecy over their deliberations it is known that some of the backers will demand a filibuster against all legislation unless the currency scheme is given consideration.

Senate Committee Reports Favorably On New Beer Bill

Would Legalize 3.05 Per Cent Beer In Preference To 3.2 Passed By House

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13—After rewriting the Collier bill, as it passed the house, a senate judiciary subcommittee today favorably reported a new measure, legalizing 3.05 beer by weight.

This represented a reduction of the alcoholic content of the beer to be legalized as the house proposed to authorize 3.2 beer by weight.

The new bill also would legalize wine and other vineous liquors containing up to 3.05 per cent alcohol.

The slash in alcoholic content was made to conform with recent findings of a British royal commission which made a lengthy scientific investigation into the intoxicating effects of beer. This commission found that 3.05 by weight was the highest alcoholic content in non-intoxicating beer.

Engineers Will Meet On Monday

Members of the Engineers' society of New Castle will hold their monthly meeting on January 16 but instead of a stated meeting in the headquarters, an inspection of the Bell Telephone plant will be made. The engineers will assemble at the Bell Telephone plant at 7:30 and will be escorted through by officials of the telephone company.

May Surrender Baby's Right To Reynold's Fund

Suggestion Made That Philanthropic Endowment Fund Be Substituted

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

WILMINGTON, Del., Jan. 13.—Libby Holman Reynolds, widow of Smith Reynolds, is willing to relinquish the claim of her recently born son to the tobacco millions estate of her husband providing a philanthropic endowment fund be established, her father, Alfred Holman, told International News Service today.

In the hope that such a fund might "help her fellows, trapped in a labyrinth of economic disorder," his daughter has offered to surrender her child's right and her own share in the inheritance, Holman declared.

The statement, given to International News Service by Holman, follows:

"Since you feel obligated to print something about $20,000,000, said to be the size of the deceased Smith Reynolds (my daughter's late husband) patrimony, you may as well print the following:

"Mrs. Reynolds has offered to relinquish her child's right to the inheritance, as far as she legally is able, and her own share as widow, save a comparatively modest sum in each case, (and, these because she is now deprived of her earning power) hoping that the remainder may be devoted to public uses through an endowment established in her late husband's and his father's memory. It is believed that the others interested will subscribe to such a program.

"It only remains to be suggested that, while charity is a poor substitute for justice, since there is social injustice in our communal organization, subscriber cannot but rejoice as do Mrs. Reynold's devoted mother and her fond sister and brother that she has availed herself of the great privilege of trying to help her felows, trapped in a labyrinth of economic disorder, feeble though that help, by and large, must seem to be. Feelingly,

SAY COLD CLIMATES LEAD TO LONG LIFE

(International News Service)

ROME—Cold climates lead to long life according to figures just published by the Italian Bureau of Statistics.

The average length of life is longer in Norway than elsewhere, being 55 years, 3 months; next is Sweden with 55 years: third comes Holland with 52 years. Fourth is England with 50 years and five months. The shortest lived are the Austrians with an average of 41 years: Italy has 44, France and Belgium 47 and Germany about 46 years.

The Italians claim that the low level of Italian life span is due as elsewhere to the large number of deaths during babyhood.

Ducray Case Is In Hands Of The Jury

Must Determine Whose Fault Caused Fatal Accident At Harlansburg

At the time of going to press the jury in the case of Clovis Ducray against Charles Swiderski, in which the plaintiff is seeking damages for an automobile accident at Harlansburg, was still out. The case was given to the jury at court about 10:30 this forenoon by Judge Hildebrand. Ducray's mother, Lulu Maude Ducray was killed and Clovis Ducray was badly injured in the accident.

Swiderski, in his testimony, claimed that he had stopped at the stop sign on the east side of the Perry Highway, and seeing no one, started across, when the Ducray car suddenly appeared. Testimony of some of the witnesses was the effect that the Ducray car was running around 50 miles an hour, when about 300 feet north of the scene of the accident.

Marathon Dancer In Erie Jailed

Man Is Held Without Bond For Attacking Of His Girl Partner In Dance

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., Jan. 13.—The dance marathon here which authorities vainly have tried to stop almost ended in a riot last night.

New Castle And New Brighton Play Tonight

Sectional Rivals Face Tough Game

New Castle Must Win Tonight To Stay In Section Three Race

Visitors Will Present Powerful Team—Prelim To Start At 7:15 P. M.

New Castle High School basketball team faces one of the toughest games on the Section Three W. P. I. A. L. schedule tonight when the players meet New Brighton High basketball team at the George Washington Junior High gym, this city. These two teams along with Beaver Falls are tied for the leadership in the section. The game tonight has a very important bearing. The New Castle Reserves and New Brighton Reserves will play the preliminary game starting at 7:15 o'clock.

Visitors Favored

The New Brighton team enters the game tonight favored to win. The defeate of Butler High last week by a score of 23 to 16 at the New Brighton floor gives the Valleyites the edge over New Castle. The Bridenbaugh team had an easy time in taking the measure of Rochester last week 31 to 8. Butler had prospects of winning the Section Three title, but when they had finished with the Roarkmen they changed their minds.

Butler had won about eight to nine straight games up until they hit New Brighton and naturally was rather cocky about the whole business, and consequently it happened, what, they were too confident. It pays never to be sure of a game until the whistle blows.

Watch Fields-Walker

New Castle had better watch this pair, Fields and Walker. These two boys were the works against Butler making 16 of the points. Fields is a forward and Walker is a guard. Reiber and Kominic will have their hands full with these floor artists.

Coach Bridenbaugh will stand pat on his lineup that started the Rochester game, of Uram and Teplica, Ridley, Kominic and Reiber. Battley, Shellogg, Hnat, Kelly and Miles are to be held in reserve, along with Jones, Thomas and Baskowski.

If New Castle drops to New Brighton they will be out of the picture, as New Brighton will be ahead by a full game and should Beaver Falls top Rochester, which they should do with ease, it will mean the two valley towns out in front. These early games are just as important as the later games, and Coach Bridenbaugh will impress this upon his floormen.

Need Victory

New Castle will lose a valuable man when Johnny Uram steps out of the picture the last week in January, and for that reason "Bridy" wants to get as many victories as possible before Uram is through.

The prices for the game tonight according to Ralph H. Gardner will be 15 cents for students. Adults will pay 25 cents for the bacony seats and 35 cents for the reserved seats downstairs.

New Brighton will bring a big delegation of fans and students with them. They will occupy a special section of the gym.

Coaches Bridenbaugh and Roark today gave out their probable lineups:

New Castle		New Brighton
Uram	F	J. Vuckisa
Teplica	F	Fields
Ridley	C	Keppan
Kominic	G	Molter
Reiber	G	Walker

Referee—Dave Fawcett.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Harry Davis, Connie Mack's brilliant first baseman of two decades ago, walked into the office of Stan Baumgartner, baseball writer on the Philadelphia Inquirer and thumbed the pages of a 1906 guide. Davis' first year in the big league was 1895 and he chuckled when he saw the name of Tim Hurst, veteran umpire. "Tim fined me $10 one day for growling at a strike" he said "and when I told him he should have a tin cup and a dog he raised it to $20. We kept arguing back and forth and finally it got up to sixty and I began to figure out that I wouldn't be able to get a hair cut for a year and would have to eat two meals a day. I was pretty glum about the seventh inning when Tim was hit by a foul tip and knocked cold. For a moment I forgot the fine, went to his assistance, pulled off his protector, rubbed his head and he came too." Davis said Tim noticed this and with a wink of his remarked: "That massage was worth $60. "Only he and I knew what that meant and the fine never went in."

Talking about pugilists it is refreshing to hear from the Inquirer's writer: "Now we dedicate a paragraph to Tommy Loughran, not because of his victory over Battling Levinsky, but because of a splendid bit of charity he is doing. Tommy Loughran, we understand, with his ring earnings, supports a day school for young children whose mothers find it necessary to work. Due to Loughran's philanthropy these harassed mothers can bring their tots to school with a feeling that they are happy and safe when they return." Charity among fighters is not unusual and it is the boys who are often looked upon as the hardened of humanity who have the great thought for others. For instance there is one fighter known here of whom some nice words are found. He is Al Friedman. He took the last $700 he had in the world and placed it in the hands of a widowed mother he was boarding with and told her: "Buy yourself a business with this and make a home for your kids."

Jimmy Maloney will try a comeback against Jose Santa, ponderous Portuguese at Boston, January 20.

Paul Bielic, right guard of the McKeesport high school football team last season has been named 1933 captain.

Red Bush of Cumberland and Alabama Kid, conqueror of Jimmy Belmont, will box at Pittsburgh, Monday night.

Bob Latera has written Jack Dempsey asking for a place for Jack Kearns on the Baer-Schmeling card next June.

Breeders Hold Annual Meeting

Dr. J. M. Dunkle Of Butler Is Named President Of Organization

Western Pennsylvania Breeders' association named officers at their meeting in Butler yesterday. Dr. J. M. Dunkle of Butler was elected president, John Heyl of Butler secretary and Roy Bowser of Ford City vice president. New Castle, Johnstown, Pittsburgh and Erie were among the cities represented at the meeting. The association was born a year ago with five members and now has 40. Two and three year old races will be sponsored this year by the group. The organization was formed for the purpose of sponsoring colt racing.

More revenue is collected by New York city taxicabs than by all other transportation facilities in the city combined.

Famous Regatta At Poughkeepsie Is Called Off

Will Cancel College Regatta For Period Of One Year To Save Expenses

ATHLETICS ARE BEING CURTAILED

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 13—With its tower of illusion, or at least a few of its upper floors, crashing down about its ears, the structure of college athletics suffered further tremors today.

These came as an aftermath to yesterday's detonation which resulted from the outright cancellation of the Poughkeepsie regatta for a period of one year and which now seems to have been maybe a mistake. The cancellation, in fact, may have to be for a period of two years.

Impression Given

This, anyhow, was the impression gained from guarded admissions in athletic circles, the idea being that while the crews had solemnly promised to take part next year, the man who attempted to row a promise down the middle of the Hudson river is liable to be a little unhappy over the result.

Only two varsity crews, Columbia and the Navy, seemed ready to enter yesterday when the stewards voted unanimously to abandon an event which, except for the war years, had been held continuously since 1895. The others, including California, Cornell, Syracuse, Pennsylvania, Washington, M. I. T. and Wisconsin, wished to but could not. They haven't the money now, so they won't have it in June and the matter of next year is less a conviction than a hope.

St. Michael looks better than Highland U. P. in the B game as Highland has not won a game this season. St. Michael has won four and lost four games.

Shenango High Topples Union

Shenango Hangs 31 To 9 Defeat On Union High In Lopsided Battle

FRENGEL HIGH SCORER OF GAME

Shenango High school basketball team hung a 31 to 9 defeat on Union high quintet last night in their annual battle at the Union high floor. The Shenango team led in every period of the game.

At the end of the first quarter the Shenango team held a 16 to 4 lead, and at the half had a lead of 18 to 8. The end of the third period found Union dragging behind by a score of 23 to 9. The fourth and final quarter found Union high without a point and Shenango tallied eight making the final score 31 to 9.

Frengel Is Good

Union played ragged ball, and they were off in passing. At the foul line the "jinx" continued to follow the Union team and only one out of 10 was the result. Shenango made 5 out of 16 fouls. Frengel, J. Polenick and Craig looked good in the Shenango lineup.

Coach Boyd tried his second team in the second quarter of the game and they did manage to outscore the Shenango team 4 to 2. The second team also played the third quarter for Union, and held Shenango to five points, and scored one themselves. The Union regulars went back into the game in the fourth period, but they failed to score a point. Coach Raney's team was all pepped up for Union and played a fine brand of basketball.

Mack Differs With Earnshaw About Pennant

Connie Mack Thinks Athletics Will Make It Interesting For Yankees

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 13.—Connie Mack, managerial genius of the Philadelphia Athletics, today differed emphatically with George Earnshaw, his big harler, over the question of who will win the American league pennant.

Earnshaw's comment that the New York Yankees will run away with the flag before half the program is finished brought a quick retort from Mack.

"If Earnshaw really made that statement he certainly is far from being a sharp baseball man,' Mack declared.

"The New York Yankees are a most powerful club, I will candidly admit, but I do not think for a moment the race will be a runaway by any means."

Jeby-Battaglia Fight For Title

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—The middleweight crowd—as far as New York state is concerned—will be dangling in mid-air tonight over the center of the ring in Madison Square Garden—not for mere asking, but for the better man between Ben Jeby and Frank Battaglia.

Neither is a champion. Neither has a bauble to lose in the way of a clouting coronet. It will be a 15-round tredge—if it goes that far! Because of the fact these fellows have a throne to gain and not to lose, it must be a dramatic encounter.

John L. Sullivan's slogan was "Don't let the other fellow get started." Jeby and Battaglia ought to paste that line in their fighting boots tonight as an incentive.

Although Marcel Thil is recognized as champion by the National Boxing association, Jeby and Battaglia are considered here to be the top contenders for the title Mickey Walker vacated when increasing poundage prompted him to take a fling at the heavyweights.

Hunters Should Forward Stub

Lawrence county hunters should fill out and then forward the stub of their hunting license to the Pennsylvania Game commission, at Harrisburg, according to Andrew Dodds, president, Lawrence County Sportsmen's association. He said this is one manner of ensuring restocking of game.

Five Chips In Ring

George Became Champion; Joe Fought Champion

George And Joe Best

Seldom do two brothers make good in the boxing game but there have been instances where two brothers reached notches where they were able to choose their shots. There were five Chips in the ring. Two of these were George and Joe Chip, both middleweights. George was the middleweight champion but lost his crown to Al McCoy. Strange as it may seem brother Joe came along after Al had dropped the title and scored a technical knockout over the Brooklynite. Among the boys Joe fought wa Johnny Wilson when Wilson wore the middleweight diadem. They milled at Pittsburgh and Detroit.

George dropped an anvil to become a fighter. He formerly had worked in the coal mines and was somewhat renowned as an infielder on a small town baseball team.

As soon as he commenced "rattling teeth" with a Jimmy Dime left hook he started upward and when most people thought Frank Klaus had him beat, Chip knocked him out and won the title.

He held the fistic pennant only a short time. He left his chin unguarded and Al McCoy lifted a wild swing from the floor that laid Chip cold.

Fought Some Good Fights

But he did his best fighting after he lost the title. He met Harry Greb, Billy Murray, Sailor Petroskey, Mike and Tom Gibbons, Eddie McGoorty, Jack Dillon, Jimmy Clabby, Les Darcy, etc.

Joe knocked out Harry Greb and milled around the small towns until he fought McCoy in Brooklyn. They were booked for a return bout but Al had fractured a small bone in Joe's chest.

That was why George substituted for Joe and it was not until years later that Joe caught Al in Youngstown. In the meanwhile he fought Johnny Wilson twice, Happy Littleton et. al.

"Eggie" Lost To Stribling

Billy fought several preliminaries in New Orleans before he took a job. Charlie milled in this section and caught Bat Terry when the battler was slipping fast and won a technical 'kayo'.

"Eggie did not mill often but he did box a boy who became quite prominent later. He was Willie Stribling. They battled several rounds in the old Coliseum here. Stribling won.

Union To Play At Evans City

Union High School basketball team will be after their first Sectional 18 victory when they journey to Evans City, Pa., for a game with the Evans City high team.

Coach Boyd's men will be rather tired after their hard battle with Shenango High last evening, but the Unionites are anxious for this evening's encounter and have promised Coach Boyd to show him some classy foul shooting.

Zelienople defeated Union here last week in the first game of the sectional tilts. The Union team will go to Evans City by bus, and will leave shortly after supper.

Stock Market Is Irregular

Rather Quiet Session Is Observed During The Forenoon

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—The stock market went through a quiet and irregular forenoon today.

Drug, Inc. was a weak spot, lost more than a point on the refusal of the British Government to permit sale of its United Drug's control of Boots Pure Drug Co., English chain. United Drug bonds slumped more than 5 points.

Kresge dropped to a new low on the decline. McCrory issues which collapsed yesterday, scored some recovery.

The main body of stocks displayed a firm undertone and moved in a narrow range around the previous close.

The week-end trade reviews continued optimistic over the business outlook, while the federal reserve report contained encouraging features, particularly the further decline in hoarding.

Bonds were irregular on further profit-taking induced by their recent sweeping advance. Cotton was stronger, rising 25 cents a bale, while wheat improved fractionally.

Farm stocks were aided by the better tone in grains, Case Threshing leading with a rise of nearly a point.

Utilities were steady. Reynolds Tobacco was strong. Rails were better, anticipating better traffic figures tomorrow.

Tubers To Invade Butler Tonight

Close Game Is Anticipated In Annual Clash Of Two Rivals This Evening

ELLWOOD TO SEND LARGE DELEGATION

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 13—An inspired Ellwood High basketball team will invade Butler this evening for the annual clash with the Heinzer men which promises to be one of the toughest and most exciting games of the season.

Both teams have been trained diligently for this contest, realizing that it will be no set-up. The locals are paying no attention to that 26-17 shellacking handed the soapminers a week ago in their first sectional game with New Brighton. At the same time the Tubers lost a close game to Beaver Falls here. Butler has 8 intersectional victories and Ellwood 5. Both teams will be fighting desperately for victory tonight, as a defeat would practically eliminate either team from becoming a potential champion.

Coach "Ganzy" Benedict has been conducting some private long workouts in the Lincoln gym this week. All the old plays were given a careful going over and several new ones added to their repertoire. Coach Benedict is ovelooking no obstacle in his efforts to obtain a victory tonight, which will add much to their prestige.

Another interesting feature will be the natural battle between the reserves of both schools in the preliminary. The local team will be out to maintain its undefeated record. The preliminary is expected to get underway at 7 o'clock. The main game will follow an hour later.

Small Ohio Town Is Using "Barter Plan" Is Among Thriving

Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, President Of Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio, Speaks

Tells Of Benefits Derived From "Bartering Plan" Idea Catches On

Three months ago the village of Yellow Springs, O., and its 1,600 inhabitants were backed against the wall of economic difficulties. Lacking in money, the village turned to its titular head, Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, president of Antioch College, located in Yellow Springs, for a solution of its problem. Dr. Morgan introduced the "barter plan," which was put into operation. It has proved successful. Agriculture and business is thriving on it. Noted economists have studied the system and indorsed it. In the following article, prepared exclusively for International News Service, Dr. Morgan explains the working of the system.

By DR. ARTHUR E. MORGAN
President Of Antioch College
Written Expressly For International News Service

YELLOW SPRINGS, O., Jan. 13.—A half-million people are estimated to be living comfortably in the United States today without any money.

They are beneficiaries of the rapidly-growing "barter plan" which had its start in Los Angeles more than a year ago when an unemployed dweller, finding himself out of funds, walked out to a truck farmer and said, "let me paint your fence in exchange for some vegetables."

Idea Develops.

In a year his idea has developed so swiftly that one cannot guage the importance of this plan on the country's economic history.

The Los Angeles man, like everyone else, was concerned about the curious condition of the country in which there is an abundance of everything, yet millions are in want.

Today, from 150 to 500 "exchanges" are operating where unemployed are trading services for goods, and goods for services.

A woman may be glad to can fruit in exchange for having a dress made. The dressmaker may be glad to make the dress, in exchange for having her roof mended. A carpenter may be glad to mend the roof, in exchange for the services of a dentist. The dentist may be happy to fill teeth, in exchange for having some fruit canned. If such things as these can be done among ourselves without the use of legal money, we may get many things done that we cannot seem to afford now.

Plan Is Working.

In this college and farming community, when we found about one-fourth of the population was living on 25 cents a day, we formed a barter exchange some three months ago. It has seemed to work.

The unemployed are taking it into their own hands to bring supply and demand closer together, and they are doing it happily. I discovered almost a religious fervor when men found they could work together without profit.
